Anna Schumacher

Anna Schumacher and Jim Austin, running for Senator's for Arts and Humanities Anna and I are running as a team because we plan to work as a team if elected. Both of us being from the same school we share many beliefs and have many of the same goals in mind for running.

Our first major goal in mind is to organize the students into an effective working force to amend the Ryan's act which is to go into effect next year. We are not the only people who are now faced with the problem of working towards a B. A. that will not be accepted into the credential program due to the Ryan's Act. Not only do we want to work with the students, but with the faculty and the administration. Educational goals should be established by educators not legislators. Our second major goal is to make the student body card worth something. At present the card becomes ear-worn in the wallet, not in use. With our campus and student body as small and close as it is, it should be possible to bring more activities for the students. Not just concerts, lectures and dances, how about some picnics, trips and other assorted ideas that are flowing into ears but not being done. If elected, both of us will work towards these goals and whatever ideas are brought forth by the students of this school. It is our school, let's make it our school.

As a Cal State Stanislaus senator, I would attempt to impliment a general program aimed at ameliorating the problems which directly affect the student body. In this respect, I heartily endorse the platform of Tim Rien for the office of ASB president. That platform contains two issues which I see as central to the concerns of the student.

Bookstore prices: I would attempt to bring into fruition the idea of Mr. Riens which would lower prices

Cafeteria prices: Again, I support the plan designed to lower costs to the students of this college.

If elected to the student senate, I pledge to work for these will directly improve the situation, especially the economic condition, of Cal State Stanislaus students.

Drastic demands and radical promises for reform measures are hardly the sort of propaganda tactics to be used in an atmosphere where laissez-faire attitudes are the vogue. Rather, a more subtle come-on is in order. Thus I nonchalantly slip my name into the box, GARRY TRAIL, senator-at-large.

The climate at Stanislaus is by its unique nature, apathetic. Whether this dismal situation is a phenomena in and of itself or, whether it is the reaction of oppressed students to an iron-fisted, all-powerful administration, is not for us to suddenly concern ourselves with.

There are students, just the same, who feel a veil in their college social life. The calibre of college community involvement programs and the current types of campus activities do not meet their needs. Still other students are frustrated by various school administrative policies. Because these problems are in dire need of solution I campaign for the office of Senator-at-large.

I support such programs as: (1) The College Hour - To be held twice a week from twelve to one. This will enable all students a free hour to relax, eat lunch together, listen to music, speakers or whatever out at the Rock; 2) Student Guide to Course Requirements. This would be a five hundred page book outlining each course offered at CSCS. Important aspects of the course, such as the number of tests (their weight) number of papers, reading material etc . . . , would be outlined. The teacher of the particular course will supply the in-

Being involved throughout my school days in school government, either as a participant, subject or dissenter, I decided to take it easy and get out of the spot light here at Stanislaus State. One day though I happened to notice the school elections and noted from the number of people running that most of our student body was, like myself, apathetic. Well, two quarters here and apathy has become boring for me - so it's back to attempted conformity or dissidence.

Two issues have struck me as being important. One is the apathy at our school. Apathy shown by attendance at games and other school-sponsored social functions. They seem to me very poor. In all honesty I have no great plan to cure these problems. I do have thoughts on how and do have the desire to help. A school of our size has got a potential for unity unsurpassed none. People preach 'unite the world' lets start with ourselves, with your help I think we might do it.

Eric La Joure

Eric La Joure: Candidate for Division Senator: Behavioral and Social Sciences

Before one criticizes the apathy of students at this school, one should make sure he is not part of the apathy. This is my reason for being a candidate for the OFFICE OF DIVISION SENATOR: BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES.

Our apparent apathy is not unique to CSCS. Every educational institution grapples with the problems of the disinterested and uninvolved student. However, the degree of apathy here seems to be exceptional. Many attribute this to the times, the location of the school, the type of people who attend classes here, the size of the school and the student body, the mentality of the students, etc. All these reasons probably DO apply to a certain extent. However, I would like to suggest another variable, that being the available ways students can get involved in the policy-making process here at CSCS. I know the idea of holding elected office appeals to few students. If I were elected, I'd work to institute new ways of becoming involved in student government.

I would like to invite anyone who would like to discuss student government with me to please do so. On April 25, 26 I would appreciate your vote for Division Senator, Behavioral and Social Sciences. Also I would like to endorse Tim Rien for Student Body President.

I am running for the office of Senator-At-Large. I'm presently a Junior majoring in Political Science and minoring in Business Administration.

During the past few years I have been active as Chairman of CSCS Students for McGovern, Chairman of Democratic Political Action Group and presently I'm Chief Justice of CSCS Student Court.

As one of three Senators at Large, I will actively seek out the views of all the students.

I believe an active student government needs representatives who are willing to explain to students what is going on, representatives willing to listen to the views of the Student Body representatives who will strive to be responsible representatives. These qualifications I will actively try to meet. I am most respectively yours.

Steve Hatch

Steve Hatch
Senator from the School of Natural Sciences

I, Stephen Hatch, am running for division senator, Natural Sciences I don't approach student elections as a place to put my name in lights or a popularity contest. I am a serious candidate, looking forward to serving you in the following year.

I am a junior history major. I feel that I can best represent my department/division because I enjoy listening to other students' suggestions and criticisms and would be able to effectively relate these to the senate. Most of all, I would be easily reached by students who would like to speak with me (personally, by phone, or otherwise).

To Ms. Katherine Evanhoe:
Editor of the School

Word has just reached me of a monstrous injustice about to be committed at your school. Since I am presently engaged in righting the wrongs committed by the hydra-headed monster of iniquity throughout the Universe, and restoring goodness, virtue and tranquility to all Good People everywhere, I cannot personally come at this time to ZAP the dastardly villains.

Instead I send a visual message of warning to these warped and misguided men. I only pray that you will have the courage to print it, so that free men will take heart and know that (except for a heavy work schedule) I am always with them. Avenger Egg P.S. formation for the book. Hopefully students will no longer mistakenly register for courses that are beyond their abilities or energies. These are only examples of the sort of work I will direct my efforts toward as a representative of you, the student body.
